LAW360 Tax Authority
a LexisNexis company

EXCLUSIVE WEBINAR SERIES: A YEAR IN REVIEW

Join the Law360 Tax Authority team and industry experts as they review the 2020 state and local tax landscape and changes since the start of the new decade.

DETAILS
December 2, 2020
12:00 p.m. - 1:00 p.m. EST

Click here to register.

MODERATORS

Richard Ehisen is the managing editor and publisher of the State Net Capitol Journal. He has written extensively on issues like immigration, health care reform, education, pension reform, and many others. Richard has also published hundreds of freelance articles in a wide spectrum of local, regional and national publications.

Maria Koklanaris is a senior correspondent for Law360 Tax Authority specializing in state and local tax coverage. Prior to joining Law360, she covered state and local tax issues for years at other major tax publications. She also has expertise in business, education, and general journalism.

PANELISTS

David Brunori is a a senior director at RSM US LLP and a professor at The George Washington University. His work focuses on state & local tax and public finance, and he's written several books on state tax policy and administration.

Jeff Friedman is a partner at Eversheds Sutherland and a recognized thought leader on state and local tax issues. Jeff works on high-profile and precedent-setting litigation and controversy matters across the country. He is also a well-respected advocate on issues of tax policy, including the taxation of digital economy transactions.

Nancy Prosser serves as general counsel for the Multistate Tax Commission. She previously served as general counsel at the Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts. Nancy has been responsible for the day-to-day management of over 40 tax policy analysts covering more than 30 different taxes and fees, including franchise, sales and use, insurance, and oil and gas.

Experience Law360 Tax Authority for yourself!

Sign up now for a complimentary two-week evaluation.

Visit law360.com/tax-authority or contact taxsubscriptions@law360.com.